'THE WORD OF GOD'

DR. TORREY TELLS WHY HE HAS
IMPLICIT FAITH IN THE HOLY BIBLE.

A TOUCHING SERMON LAST NIGHT

Work of the Rev. W. S. Jacoby is Attracting Wide Attention—Interest in the Meetings is on the Increase.

NOTES.

During the Torrey mission in Birmingham, England, there were 7,700 people led to Christ. The mission lasted thirty days.

The father of Dr. Torrey was a New York banker,
and during his career lost
two fortunes.

The interest in the Torrey meetings is growing day by day. At the service last night a sermon was preach by the evangelist on "Why I Believe the Bible to Be the Word of God." This subject will be continued tonight, and if you have any doubts about the Bible these addresses will certainly help you.

The afternoon services at the ta-bernae are considered by many to be the best, for at these services Dr.
Torrey speaks of things which are of interest to every Christian in the city. Last week and also yesterday the subject of the afternoon discourse was "Prayer," but from today there will be subjects equally as interesting.

The work of Rev. W. S. Jacoby is attracting a great deal of attention.
When in Chicago Mr. Jacoby was assistant pastor to Dr. Torrey at Moody church, and for several years he has been traveling with the evangelist in this work. He is a lovable character, and is surely winning his way among
the good people of Sedalia.

At the service conducted by him at the Central Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, before the regular service, the place was crowded to listen to the burning address which he made. The sermon of last night is below.

The Bible the Word of God.

The most important question in religious thought is, "Is the Bible the Word of God?" If the Bible is the Word of God, an absolutely trustworthy revelation from God Himself of Himself, His purpose and His will,
of man's duty and destiny of spiritual and eternal realities, then we have a starting point from which we can proceed to the conquest of the whole domain of religious truth. But if the Bible is not the Word of God,
if it is the mere product of man's thinking, speculating and guessing,
not altogether trustworthy in regard to religious and eternal truth, then we are all at sea, not knowing whither
we are drifting, but we may be sure we are not drifting toward any safe port.

I did not always believe the Bible to be the Word of God. I was not an atheist—I was an agnostic. I was not an infidel—I was a skeptic. I did not know, but I determined to find out. If there was a God, I determined to find that out and act accordingly.
I found out beyond a peradventure
that there is a God, that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, that the Bible is the Word of God. I am going to give you some of the reasons why I believe the Bible to be the Word of God.

First of all, I believe the Bible to be the Word of God, because of the testimony of Jesus Christ to that fact.
We live in a day in which many men say that they accept the teaching of Jesus Christ, but they do not accept the teaching of the whole Bible. If we accept the teaching of Jesus Christ, we must accept the whole Bible, for Jesus Christ has set His stamp upon the entire Book, and if we accept His authority, we must accept all that upon which He sets the stamp of authority.

As to Christ's endorsement of the Old Testament, turn first of all to Mark 7:13. Jesus had just quoted from the law of Moses, not merely from the Ten Commandments, but from other portions of the Law of Moses as well. He has set over against the teaching of the Law of Moses the traditions of the Pharisees and Scribes, and in this verse He says, "You do make the Word of God of none effect," etc. Here he distinctly calls the Law of Moses the Word of God. It is oftentimes said that the Bible nowhere claims to be the Word of God. Here Jesus Christ Himself distinctly asserts that the Law of Moses is the Word of God. If then, we accept the authority of Jesus Christ, we must accept the authority of the Law of Moses as originally given,

and as contained in the Old Testament Scriptures.

John 10:35, Jesus has just quoted in proof of a point which He is making from one of the Psalms and adds,
"The Scriptures cannot be broken,"
thus setting the stamp of His authority upon the absolute infallibility of the Old Testament Scriptures.

HENRY VITT WEDS

FORMER SEDALIAN CLAIMED A BRIDE AT WARRENSBURG
THIS AFTERNOON.

REV. FR. O'DRISCOLL OFFICIATED

The Bridegroom for Fifteen Years Has Been in the Employ of the J. A. Lamy Co.—Manager of Quarry City Plant.

Henry Edward Vitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vitt, of 501 West Sixth street, and Mrs. Lida Kelly, daughter of Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Warrensburg, were united in wedlock
at the home of the bride in the Quarry City at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Fr. D. J. O'Driscoll, pastor of the Warrensburg Catholic church.
Only immediate relatives witnessed the tying of the nuptial knot.

Immediately after the marriage
the bridal couple left for a tour of the west, after which they will be at home to friends at Warrensburg.

Mr. Vitt, for a period of fifteen years, has been in the employ of the J. A. Lamy Manufacturing company, at present being the manager of the company's branch plant at Warrensburg, which position he has filled creditably for the past three years.

He is one of Sedalia's most worthy and popular young men, liked by every acquaintance, and a legion of friends will join the Democrat-Sentinel in extending congratulations.

The bride is reputed to be one of Warrensburg's most refined and cultured ladies, having many friends,
whose best wishes will accompany
her on her new step in life.

Among those to attend the wedding
were the groom's parents, their son, Jerome; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hough, all of Sedalia, and a brother and sister of the groom, residing at Kansas City.

BROKE BONE IN HAND

Carl Anderson, Car Repairer at the M., K. & T. Shops Here.

Carl Anderson, an M., K. & T. car repairer at the local shops, residing on West Fifth street, is off from work and will remain so for at least two weeks as the result of an accident inflicted by a fellow workman last week.

Mr. Anderson's opponent playfully seized hold of the ring finger of Mr.
Anderson's right hand, pulling it out of joint and fracturing a bone in the hand proper.

The wound was dressed at the M., K. & T. hospital, and according to the physicians, the hand cannot be used for at least a fortnight longer.

FOOD INSPECTOR HERE

A Two Days' Inspection Was Completed This Afternoon.

C. F. Bishop, of St. Louis, a deputy food and drug inspector for Missouri,
and J. O. Halverson, of Columbia, state analyst, today completed a two days' investigation in this city, during which time they inspected samples of products of twelve dairies.

According to the gentlemen, only three of the twelve examinations fell below the standard in that they did not contain 3 1/4 per cent of butter fat; but the showing is very gratifying, as in most cities the percentage
below the standard is much greater.

SAVE THE ALASKAN COAL FIELDS

"The coal lands in the possession of the United States are being rapidly absorbed under the present inadequate
law. The great fields of Alaska, estimated to contain 15,000,000 tons, still remain the heritage of the people. But bad as is the general coal land law of the United States, that of Alaska is even worse, for there the government is absolutely liable to a charge of $10

an acre, which, according to a public statement by the director of the United States geological survey, is less than one-tenth of the real value of these coal lands." (From interview with ex-President Eliot, president National Conservation Commission.)

BURIAL TOMORROW

FUNERAL OF MR. CARROLL, WHO DIED AT HOUSTON SUN-DAY MORNING.

A COMMITTEE MET THE REMAINS

Rev. Fr. McNamee to Conduct Services at St. Patrick's Church at 9 O'clock A. M. Wednesday
—Burial at Crown Hill.

The funeral of Charles Carroll, a former Sedalian, who died at Houston, Texas, will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Services will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Fr.
B. R. McNamee.

Pall-bearers will be:
Charles McEniry, John W. Murphy,
Patrick Doherty, Edward Burke, J. D.
Murphy and William McInery, of Houston.

The following will serve as honorary pall-bearers:
C. P. Hall, Patrick O'Connell, Michael McGinley, Mike Garvin, E. G.
Cassidy and E. B. Burrows.

Mr. Carroll's remains arrived in Sedalia at 12:45 o'clock this morning.
They were accompanied by the widow, three daughters, the former's brother, P. F. Sullivan, wife and children, of Yonkum, Texas.

Patrick Shea and Patrick Sullivan,
the former a member of Sedalia council of the Knights of Columbus, went to Ft. Scott, Kas., Monday evening to accompany the remains here.

In spite of the inclement weather,
almost twenty members of the Knights of Columbus assembled at the passenger station when the train arrived to act as an escort for the body.

The floral offerings for Mr. Carroll's funeral are beyond description.
They are far too numerous to mention, and are exquisitely beautiful in design without a single exception.
Many of them accompanied the remains from Houston.

Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Besides belonging to the Knights of Columbus, Woodmen of the World and the Maccabees, Mr. Carroll also held membership in St. Vincent de Paul branch No. 159, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America.

They Will Wed This Week.

L. D. Townsend, an employe of the M., K. & T. at the roundhouse in this city, and Miss Ethel Clark, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark, will be united in marriage at the home of the young lady's parents, 1611 South
Ohio avenue, tomorrow evening.

The Rev. F. Y. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church, will perform the ceremony. Relatives and a few friends will attend the ceremony.

The bridal couple will leave that night for a wedding trip in the south, after which they will return here to reside.

Miss Clark is a sister of Mrs. J. D.
North, and, like her intended husband, has a legion of friends who will read of the marriage with pleasure.

"BUGS IN THE OIL"

THIS IS THE COMPLAINT NOW
FILED WITH M., K. & T.
OFFICIALS.

DOES NOT GIVE RIGHT KIND LIGHT

Attention to the Shortcoming on File in the Office of Superintendent Finney and He's Investigating.

"Bugs in the oil" is the latest complaint which is commanding the undivided attention of Supt. N. J. Finney, of the M., K. & T.

Emptying switch lamps, extracting the oil and refilling the lamps with water was not enough for employes of that road to complain about, but now the howl is circling the superintendent's office that the switch light oil is filled with bugs, water or something else, which the railway official has not been able to solve.

Some time ago the M., K. & T. appointed a switch lamp inspector to keep tab on all lamps which were not lighted. He made an accurate report daily to Supt. Finney.

When the latter began inquiring of those in charge why the lamps were not lighted the complaint was filed that thieves had robbed the lamps of

A BURGLAR ALARM

AROUSED JUDGE JOHN N. DALBY
AT HIS HOME SHORTLY
AFTER MIDNIGHT.

OVERCOAT OF SON WALLER STOLEN

Latter Found the Garment in Front Yard of Mrs. M. A. Leake as He Was Coming Down to His Work This Morning.

To have his overcoat stolen and not know it, and leaving home for work under the belief that a friend had worn the garment hunting, and then find his coat on his way down town, was the singular but fortunate experience of Waller Dalby, of the Dalby Furniture company, this morning.

Young Mr. Dalby's overcoat was stolen from the Dalby residence, corner of Fifth and Washington streets, between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning.

At that hour Judge and Mrs. Dalby were awakened by the burglar alarm sounding. The judge jumped from his bed and grabbed a shotgun which he keeps handy and hastened to the front hall.

All this time the alarm kept ringing, and when the judge reached the hall the front door was standing open just wide enough to keep the alarm going.

A hurried inspection revealed nothing unusual and he closed the door and returned to bed, relieving his mind with the thought that one of the young men roomers had just "turned in." Nothing more was thought of or said of the incident until Mr. Waller Dalby went to the front hall for his overcoat this morning to find it down town.

The garment was missing, but still no thought of burglars entered into the case, young Mr. Dalby dismissing the matter by saying he guessed Neff (one of the roomers at the Dalby home) had worn it hunting. Mr. Neff having left the house about 5 o'clock
this morning to go duck hunting.

Mr. Dalby left the house for work anything but pleased with the "trick" Neff had played on him. He came west on Fifth street, and just as he passed the home of Mrs. M. A. Leake, 217 East Fifth street, he espied a black coat in the yard just inside of the fence.

Closer inspection revealed the fact that it was his overcoat. He picked it up and returned home with it, and then it was that the senior Mr. Dalby recalled the disturbance in the night,
and it dawned upon him that he had responded to a real burglar alarm.

Has It Secured Control?

Boston, Nov. 16.—The American Telephone and Telegraph company has secured such a substantial amount of the minority stock of the Western Union Telegraph Co. and sufficient voting rights of the other stock to give it control of the telegraph corporation, according to an announcement made today.

ENLARGE A DEPOT

THE KATY HAS NOT SUFFICIENT ROOM TO HANDLE ITS FREIGHT BUSINESS.

TO ERECT FIFTY FEET ADDITION

This is to Be Added to the Warehouse on the East—The Platform
Is to Be Extended Another Seventy-Five Feet.

Owing to the enormous amount of business transacted at the M., K. & T. freight depot on East Main street,
the management of that road, following a recommendation by local officials, is preparing to materially enlarge the depot to suit growing conditions.

A fifty-foot addition to the depot
warehouse proper will be constructed at once, while the depot platform will be enlarged seventy-five feet, the addition extending eastward the same as the warehouse.

A part of the material to be used on the work is now at hand, and a force of workmen from the bridge and building department will be sent here immediately to begin the improvement.

The intention to enlarge the depot and platform furnishes proof of the growing condition of the Queen City.
Years ago the M., K. & T. and Missouri Pacific railways maintained a joint freight depot in Sedalia, employes of the two roads caring for the respective businesses.

Increased business as years passed by necessitated more room, and the two roads severed the joint depot arrangement, and the M., K. & T. erected the present depot, under the belief that the enlarged building would be sufficient to accommodate all business ever to be handled in Sedalia.

Now, however, the M., K. & T., in order to meet bettered conditions,
plans a larger and better depot, furnishing still further proof of the continued growth of Sedalia.

Governor Hadley Delivers an Address
in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Governor Hadley, of Missouri, in an address here today before the National Farm Land congress, declares that there are in his state twelve million acres of undeveloped farm lands, within a few hours of the great markets.

The soil is suitable for corn or cotton, he said, and selling from $10 to

NICK LENNARTZ VERY ILL

Confined to His Room and Has No
Use of His Legs.

Nick Lennartz, the caterer, is in a serious condition at his room in the Murphy building, suffering from what is thought to be paralysis of the legs,
although the attending physician, Dr.
M. T. Collins, is not fully decided whether the illness is that or inflammatory rheumatism.

Mr. Lennartz has been bedfast since last Saturday night. Both limbs have become discolored and are perfectly useless.

Miss Friemel Has Resigned.

WILLIE MCKAY'S MOTHER
Willis King, in Kansas City Post:
"Hold Willie McKay. Letter follows."

That was the telegram sent to the Kansas officials by the mother of the 15-year-old companion of Earl Bullock, when she heard that her boy was in jail, charged with complicity
in a bank robbery.

It would be ludicrous, that message, if it were not pathetic. Hold Willie? What do the officers of the law do when a bank is looted and a citizen shot? They always hold Willie, be he big or little, if hard riding and straight shooting can bring him to earth, and it matters not whether his years be fifteen or fifty. The mother's heart need not be troubled on this score. Willie is being held!

And when the letter comes it will doubtless contain specific instructions as to what to do with Willie.
They are either to keep on holding him until mother can scrape together enough money to come for him, or if the poor woman can not do this they are to put him on a southbound train, with an admonition to the conductor to bring him straight home to Jacksonville and not let him stop to play on the road. And maybe, after all, that would be the very best disposition to make of Willie's case.

Poor woman! It is not that Willie is yet a youth, unequipped to take a man's part, unable to bear a man's burdens. It would be the same if his years were doubled or trebled. The mother's stricken heart would still cry out, "My boy, my baby. They don't know what to do with him—
those big, strange men away off yonder. Send him to me, his mother, who would give her life to keep him
pure and clean and free from care.
They don't understand, O, they don't understand!"

The pitiful part of it is that they do not understand and the mothers do not. But would we have it otherwise, you and I, who are scarred and seamed and riddled with human faults and imperfections? If we could would we strike the scales from the eyes of our mothers and have them see us

as we are weighed and measured by other men, know us as we know ourselves? Well it is for all of us that mother love is blind and reasons not.
We would not change it if we could.

BILL TAFT'S TROUBLES.

All of us envy the president of the United States—chiefly because few of us ever stop to ponder upon his woes. He is, says the Baltimore Sun, the target of every last crank and bore of the country—political, sociological, theological.

He is assailed night and day by a million savage and resourceful critics.
He is called upon every hour to express off-hand opinions upon every subject under the sun, and if he errs
a hair's breadth in either premise or conclusion he is denounced as deliberate and sinister sophist.

In the course of his constant pilgrimages hither and thither he must eat and praise the fearful delicacies peculiar to various provinces—salt
horse of Wyoming, the indigestible baked beans of Boston, the liver and onions of Pittsburgh, the dubious
scrapple of Philadelphia, the revolting stewed reptiles of San Francisco,
the Creole concoctions of the gulf bottoms.

He must listen in patience to the amazing rhetoric of local orators; he must submit to the tiresome attentions of local nabobs. And all the while, with his head a whirl, his ears buzzing and his outraged stomach protesting, he must wear the fixed,
mechanical smile of a prima donna.

LEGISLATION FOR CITIES.

A wide variety of problems relative to the government and betterment of American cities will be wrestled with at the sixteenth annual meeting of the National Municipal league, which is to be held in Cincinnati this week in conjunction with the regular convention of the America Civic association.

Every important city of the country will be represented among the delegates, who will number at least 500, according to reports received by the committee in charge of local arrangements. The sessions will be presided over by Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, former attorney general of the United States.

Among the subjects that will be discussed at the three days' meeting are the commission plan of municipal government, direct nominations, public health, municipal budgets and research, immigration and the relation of the liquor question to municipal affairs.

A north Carolina preacher declares that the world is again to behold miracles. We won't believe in a downward tariff revision until we see it just the same.

He who dances must pay the fiddler, and usually about ten times as much as the dance was worth.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and cures on the surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it.
The same germ causes hair to fall
out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.—Scotten Drug Company.

A wild bee's home, as we all know, serves the purpose of a storehouse as well as of a place for the young to grow and develop. The entrance used by the bees is often very small, but always leads into a large room. The wax for their honey and brood cells
is the only thing in the least like furniture which they require. The firmer and more bare the walls and floors,
the better for them.—St. Nicholas.

Beware of Imitations

Carlyle's Prediction.
America, too, will have to strain its energies, to crack its sinews and all but break its heart, as the rest of us have had to do, in the thousandfold wrestle with the pythons and mud demons, before it can become a habitation for the gods. America's battle is yet to fight; and we, sorrowful, though nothing doubting, will wish her strength for it. New Spiritual Pythons, as ugly as were ever born out of mud, loom huge and hideous out of the twilight future on America; and she will have her own agony, and her own victory, but on other terms than she is yet quite aware of.—Thomas Carlyle.

Would Be Better, Indeed.

"Does the higher education unfit man for domestic life?" is a subject that is being discussed in the east.
The general opinion seems to be that it would be better if men were better educated, at any rate, if they were so educated that they could improve their wives' minds a little. The narrow point of view of men is responsible for much wedded unhappiness.

all the Scriptures the things concerning himself, and in the 44th verse He says, "All things must be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets and in the Psalms." If then, we accept the authority of Jesus Christ, we are driving logically to accept the entire Old Testament Scriptures.

But how about the New Testament?
Did Jesus set the stamp of His authority upon it also? He did. But how could He when not a book of it was written? By way of anticipation.
John 15:26, and you will hear Jesus saying, "the Comforter.... will bring all things to your remembrance whatsoever I have said unto you," thus setting the stamp of His authority,
not only upon the Apostolic teaching as given by the Holy Ghost, but upon the Apostolic recollection of what He Himself had taught.

John 16:12-13, and you will hear Jesus saying, "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when He the Spirit of truth is come, He will guide
you into all the truth." Here Jesus sets the stamp of His authority upon the teaching of the Apostles as being given by the Holy Ghost, as containing all the truth, and as containing more truth than His own teaching.

So then if we accept the teaching of the Lord Jesus Christ we must accept the entire Old and the entire New Testaments. But we must accept the authority of Jesus Christ. He is accredited to us by five unmistakable divine testimonies.

First, by the testimony of the divine life that He lived, for He lived as never man lived. Second, by the divine words that He spoke, for He spoke as never man spoke. Third, by the testimony of the divine works that He wrought, for He wrought as never man wrought. Fourth, by His divine influence upon all subsequent history.
Fifth, by His resurrection from the dead, which is one of the best proven facts of history.

My second reason for believing the Bible to be the Word of God is its fulfilled prophecies.

My third reason for believing the Bible to be the Word of God is because of the unity of the Book.

Condemns Sunshine Fad.

A well-known medical man condemns emphatically the form of vanity that leads people on their holidays
to do their utmost to get sunburned.
"Workers in city offices," he says,
"who go into the country or to the seashore for only one or two weeks will deliberately sit about hatless in the blazing sun, so that they may come back looking brown and healthy.
As often as not this practice will send them home far less fit for work than they were when the y started, for even if one escapes sunstroke the effects of the sun's rays upon the uncovered head are very bad. They will cause dizziness, headache, nausea
and loss of appetite and will often upset the digestive system for many days. There are ways of avoiding the more serious effects of the sun, but personally I would advise the city
dweller who must have a brown face to stain it with walnut juice and wear
a broad-brimmed hat like a sane and sensible individual."

COMFORTING REASSURANCE

Quick Retort Brings Smile to Faces of Passengers Threatened with Starvation.

Some years ago an excursion steamer returning from Alaska to Seattle, dislocated its propeller in a dreary portion of the inner passage and came to a forced stop. For two days the vessel's engineers and machinists labored to repair the break, but without success. It was discovered that the ship's stores were not abundant.
Alarm bred in the minds of pessimistic passengers, and the contagion spread. Starvation might assail the vessel before help arrived. A former California official took it on himself to reassure his timid companions, but his effort was not perfectly adapted to raise drooping spirits.

In fact, his closing sentences but added to the gloom. "Let us be brave,"
he said, "if the worst comes, and that dread necessity which in such misadventures has met others, must be faced by us, let us remember that it is good to die that our friends may live. The one or more that may be sacrificed will be consoled by that thought."

There was a moment's silence, awful
in its intensity, then a cheerful voice was heard: "You should be taken first, Governor Booth. You know the bravest are the tenderest." And even the terror-stricken smiled once more.

PLOT TO KILL FOILED

They Blame Engineer at Mine for a Number of Deaths.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 16.—John Cowley,
the engineer who was in charge of the elevator cage when the thirteen rescuers lost their lives at the mine
Saturday, was rushed to Princeton, Ill., last night in an automobile, accompanied by Sheriff O. H. Skoglund and State Attorney L. M. Eckert.

Rumors of an assault upon Cowley and reports that some miners were planning to kill him because of the belief that he was to blame for the death of the rescuing party, caused Sheriff Skoglund to rush him out of possible danger.

QUIT THE GAME IN TIME

Financiers Who Let Go Before the Pace Drove Them to Their Graves.

A comment not infrequently heard
in Wall street runs thus: "John D.
Rockefeller was the wisest of them all.
He knew when to quit." So did Andrew Carnegie. So, more recently, did James Stillman. H. H. Rogers was trying to throw off his harness when struck down.

The New York Journal of Commerce
says the two grand old men in the financial world whose health never seems to trouble them are J. P. Morgan and James J. Hill. Neither is ever reported as suffering from nervous breakdown or as being compelled to visit the spas of Europe. These two old friends and associates jog
along quietly but very effectively year after year, doing big things without permitting these big things to undo them.

Mr. Morgan does not believe in retiring altogether from business, as in many cases that have come under his observation retirement has been followed by the tortures of ennui and a speedy end. Mr. Hill a few years ago turned over many of his duties to his son, Louis, but he still retains enough offices to keep his mind from becoming rusty, yet not enough to prevent him from taking an enlightened part in the discussion and solution of large public problems, agricultural, economic, political and financial.

America's proud boast that she has no leisure class may hereafter be slightly modified, as our greatest men of affairs are beginning to realize that the making of money and the incessant fight for power are not the be-all and end-all of life.

COLLAR AND COAT

DISCARDED BY "BILLY" SUNDAY WHEN HE GETS WARMED UP IN PULPIT.

HE MAY BE INVITED TO ST. LOUIS

"If Isadora Duncan Can Dance in Curtain, Let Sunday Remove Coat," Says One of the Divines of St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16.—Evangelist Billy Sunday and Isadora Duncan, the dancer, were grouped in fantastic talk yesterday morning at the Methodist Episcopal ministers' meeting. It came about through the evangelist's tendency to throw aside his collar while preaching. Rev. William Schutz wanted to know if this were really so and Rev. W. D. Hamilton, who had heard him at Winona Lake, said it was—that Billy, who used to be a baseball player, after preaching fifteen minutes, took off his collar, and after ten minutes more took off his coat. "But he left his vest on," said Mr. Hamilton. "I am afraid," said Mr. Schutz, "that some of our ladies would not come to hear him."

Then spoke Rev. S. E. Betts: "If Isadora Duncan can entertain the public in the Coliseum with nothing on her but a curtain, I don't think it will hurt our ladies to see Billy Sunday without a collar."

The comparison received shouts of laughter and almost carried the day for an immediate invitation that Billy Sunday visit St. Louis. Upon the suggestion of the district superintendent, Rev. Dr. W. T. Wright, action was deferred until next Monday, when it is thought several ministers who were absent will be there to vote on the matter.

If the invitation is extended, it is to be done through the Evangelical Alliance, the Methodists making the request at the alliance at the next meeting, November 29. By motion of Rev. J. W. Borah, a committee, consisting of Mr. Borah, Dr. Wright and Rev. Dr. A. D. Ball, was appointed to confer with the Southern Methodist ministers and see if they will join in the motion, in case it passes next Monday.

Dr. Betts said that he believed the unconventional dress of Billy Sunday was just what was needed "to wake St. Louis up." "Let him take off his vest, too, if he wants to, and even his shirt," he said, "if that will do anything to fight the devil, who works nine days out of seven."

Dr. Betts was opposed to having the matter delayed because of the "prestige" of the ministers absent yesterday. "My vote is just as good as that of any preacher who may be hunting, fishing, shooting or swimming," he declared.

Rev. J. W. Borah pointed out that precipitate action would "amount to nothing at all," because the Evangelical alliance would not take it up unless the request were strongly made. "But if you simply want to shoot off a popgun," he said, "go ahead now."

Dr. Wright suggested that sometimes "preaching which does not edify one man may save many others, and if Billy Sunday can convert men, as we hear that he does do, I am for him."

It was stated by Mr. Hamilton that the evangelist would not come to any city unless all the religious denominations were for him. "He says it is hard enough to fight the devil, without fighting the ministers," Mr. Hamilton said. The point was brought out that Billy Sunday has never visited a very large city, probably for the reason, it was suggested, that it is difficult to get all the ministers to agree to having him.

NOISIEST OF THE CAPITALS

Mrs. Rice of New York Thinks That the City of London Is Growing Quieter.

An American lady who is at present staying in London is making it her life's work to reduce the amount of noise in the world, especially in the streets of great cities.

Mrs. L. L. Rice is the wife of a well-known American chess player, the London Daily Mail says. She is a dark, vivacious lady of medium height. Her manner, kindly and generous, is that of the competent woman of affairs. Mrs. Rice's attention was first turned in the direction of noise abatement by the constant shrieking of steamer whistles near her Riverside home on the Hudson river. As a result she founded in 1905 the present New York Noise Abatement society.

Discussing London in comparison with other great cities of the world, Mrs. Rice, who has traveled widely, said: "The order of noisiness in which I place the world's chief capitals is as follows: Paris, New York, London, Berlin."

"In Paris there are absolutely no restrictions on street noises. Every cab-horse wears a bell; many have several. The cochers are apparently always quarreling, and throughout the night shrieks rage out from every cab rank.

"In New York we have less traffic than you have in London, but our trolley cars, which run on practically every avenue, are much noisier than anything here. London is a quieter city than it was when I was here a few years ago. The worst feature of London streets is the unrestrained use of motor horns. Then, too, the extremely shrill whistles which are used to summon cabs at hotels, restaurants and the large stores are undesirable features of London."

MAKES FOR "CITY BEAUTIFUL"

Systematic Decoration Adds Greatly to the Attractiveness of Leipzig.

The following information concerning the exterior decoration of houses and apartments in Leipzig is furnished by Consul Southard P. Warner of that German city:

The endeavor of the people here to add to the attractiveness of their individual homes, and thus to the general beauty of the city, has been greatly stimulated by the offering of prizes for the best and most artistically decorated houses. These prizes, which consist principally of objects of art and of valuable growing plants, are offered by the Der Verkehrsverein association, while the Leipzig city council contributes a considerable annual sum for prizes. Persons desiring to compete send in their addresses to the association, which furnishes free illustrated pamphlets containing valuable suggestions about growing plants and flowers, and using them most advantageously for exterior decoration.

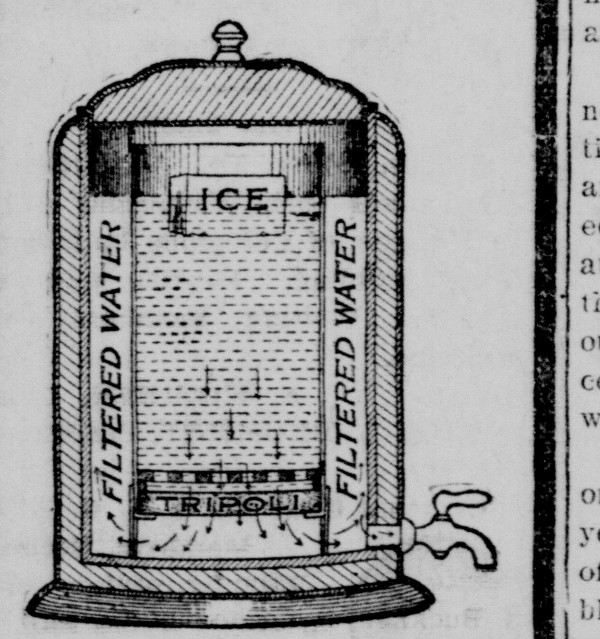

The most practical and popular method of decorating houses is by placing artistically painted wooden boxes containing collections of variegated flowers upon the window sills. The windows are frequently entirely framed in by climbing vines. Porches and balconies are better suited for floral decorations, as large pot plants and all sorts of vines can be used. In residential sections of Leipzig nearly every house has some floral decoration. Small, unostentatious houses thus frequently attract much attention.

WHITE ANTS DESTRUCTIVE

They Eat Away Support Timbers of Military Buildings in Philippines.

White ants have wrought great destruction at Schofield hall at Fort William McKinley, and it has been necessary to temporarily brace the building to prevent it from collapsing. The chief damage has been done to the timbers and braces of the rear portion of the structure, and pending repairs the use of the rear gallery has been forbidden.

It was feared that if many persons used the balcony at one time the whole structure would collapse. The destructive work of the ants was discovered several weeks ago, but it was not thought that the building was in a dangerous condition. A closer examination made several days ago, however, revealed the startling fact that many of the heavy timbers were almost entirely eaten away and that under any strain would have fallen to pieces.

Prompt steps were taken to make the building safe. Special braces were placed at several points and arrangements are now being made to replace the honey-combed pieces.

The residence of the governor general at Malacanang has also been found to be in very bad condition, and repairs are necessary to prevent its collapse. Experts from the bureau of public works have decided that it will be unsafe for the new governor general to occupy the building until a large amount of reconstruction work has been done.

PLEASED WITH PRINT

Rev. J. Will Jackson Thanks the Democrat-Sentinel.

The Democrat-Sentinel is in receipt of the following self-explanatory communication from the Rev. J. Will Jackson:

To the Democrat-Sentinel.
Gentlemen: Permit me, in this way, to thank you for the publication of my verses, "Resho Eden," in last Friday's Democrat-Sentinel. The print is a perfect copy of the original—not an error occurs.

I have another production, in negro dialect, which I want you to see. It has been published before, but never so as to correctly represent the manuscript. I would like so much to have a printed copy, true to manuscript. I will send it to you in a few days, and, if you think it of sufficient merit to be given a place in your paper, I would be pleased to have you publish it. Again, please accept my thanks. Very respectfully yours—J. Will Jackson.

PREPARING FOR THE SABBATH

Influence on Children of the Customs in Orthodox Jewish Households.

The Sabbath, including its complicated preparations, is rich and impressive material for a child's imagination. On Thursday evening the mother already prepares dough, goes to market, cleans the fish, etc.

In the morning the baking of "chales" (bread). How bewitching for a child to watch the mother making different shapes of dough, smearing it with egg and decorating it with braids of different shapes and forms. A Jewish child gets the first lesson in what we call modeling by making make-believe "chales."

In the evening the mother prepares to meet the Sabbath. The child participates in the household occupations and thereby gets habits of industry, order and regard for the rights and ideas of others and the fundamental habit of subordinating his activities to the general interest of the household.

This is especially true in regard to Jewish households where everything seems to be prescribed by law. Before darkness sets in on Friday the housewife lights in the dining room extra candles or a special lamp in honor of Sabbath and reads the blessing.

Quite often a child not yet able to talk will cover its face with its little palms, imitating the gestures of the devoted mother. The returning from the synagogue, the appreciative greeting: "Good Sabbath," the Kiddush, the blessing over wine, the special menu and the holiday spirit of all who participate has undoubtedly a soothing, beneficent influence upon the child. After supper the time is spent in resting.—American Hebrew.

PUT THE EMPLOYEES TO SLEEP

Drowsiness of Custom House Men Explained When Cocoanuts Were Examined.

Officers, clerks and janitors employed by the Brownsville custom house have for the last few days been suffering from a strange attack resembling the dreaded sleeping sickness, and the symptoms were becoming so accentuated that the matter was getting to be serious, until this morning a sack of cocoanuts addressed to a Chinaman at San Antonio, Tex., was hauled out into the corral of the custom house for more convenient keeping.

The sack of cocoanuts arrived by express from Tampico by way of Monterey several days ago and had not been called for.

The express messenger, baggage master and postal clerk, all of whom occupy the same car, were fast asleep when the train pulled into the station. The express messenger was lying with his head upon the sack and was the most difficult of the three to awaken.

When it was found that they were not drunk examination of the contents of the sack was made and it was found that one of the cocoanuts was merely the shell, the space within containing opium. The sack was seized by the authorities on the Texas side of the river and was thrown carelessly into a corner of the office room. It will from now on, however, be stored in the yard until it is disposed of through the usual methods.—Mexican Herald.

GIRL IN SUICIDE PACT DIES

Prompt Medical Attention Saves Life of Companion.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 16.—The tale of a suicide pact, which in its fulfillment, cost the life of Blanche Ferguson, of Washington, and nearly that of her companion, Fred J. Reid, of Cleveland, was told yesterday by Reid at a hearing before the chief of police.

The night of their arrival here they drank the contents of a vial containing morphine. This failing, Reid had the bottle refilled, and the couple spent their last money in decorating their death chamber with white flowers.

Then they drank the mixture. The girl never awoke. The youth was saved by prompt medical attention.

CONTRACT IS "OFF"

CITY HAS NONE AT PRESENT, AS THE VETO OF THE MAYOR IS SUSTAINED.

REFERENCE IS TO STREET LIGHTS

The Veto Stood 4 to 4—To Have Passed Ordinance Over the Veto Would Have Required Two-Thirds Vote of Council.

At Monday night's meeting of the city council the lighting contract ordinance, which has been on the table for months, bearing the mayor's veto, was defeated, four councilmen voting for the passing of the ordinance over the veto and four voting for its rejection. To have passed it over the veto would have required a two-thirds vote.

The vote stood: To sustain the veto, McKenzie, Pringle, Baker and Sullivan; to pass the ordinance over the veto, Brown, Ilgenfritz, Johns and Olmsted.

Following the vote, Alderman McKenzie moved that an ordinance be prepared establishing the maximum rate to be charged for each arc light, and the motion carried.

Ordinances were adopted as follows:

For sidewalks on the north side of Broadway, near Center.

For sidewalks on East Ninth street. For sidewalks on the east side of Marvin avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets.

A petition for street lights east of New York avenue, presented by Mr. Ilgenfritz, was referred to the proper committee.

On motion of Mr. Ilgenfritz, James T. Montgomery's verbal petition for sewer system on Park avenue, north of Third street, was referred to the proper committee.

On account of the contractor throwing up the task of paving Broadway between Grand and Barrett avenues, the city clerk was instructed to re-advertise for bids for the work.

After disposing of minor matters, council adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

Druggist W. E. Bard submits the following to the readers of the Democrat-Sentinel:

For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we had found a positive cure for eczema; a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen compounded with other healing ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have, therefore, arranged with the D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1 bottle as regularly sold.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin, this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.—W. E. Bard Drug Co.

THINGS ABOUT PARSLEY

The Plant Is Connected in Tradition with Both Birth and Death.

One of the most curious features in parsley lore is that the plant is traditionally connected with both birth and death. The association with the former, though familiar enough, is the more mysterious. All of us have heard in one form or other the explanation given by nurses to inquisitive children as to the appearance of a new brother or sister: "The doctor—or clergyman—found him or her in the parsley bed." It is possible that some may see a reference to this widespread fiction in the Roman folk story "Pilinagratia." But there can be little doubt that the origin must be sought for in some of the oldest and most universal of primitive beliefs, those, namely, which related to the sympathetic connection between the fertility of certain forms of plant life. The subject is, however, at once too large and too recondite to be more than referred to. The association of parsley with death is more explicit. It is pointed out that the name of the ill-fated son of Lysurgus, from whose blood the plant was fabled to have sprung, has the meaning of "doom bringer," and that this in itself indicated parsley as essentially a death plant. It was therefore in practically universal use for strewing the graves of the dead—so universal, indeed, that it became a conventional phrase with regard to any one in "articulo mortis" that the next thing he would need would be parsley (or his grave)—"to be in need of parsley" came to be a recognized periphrasis for "to be on the point of death."—London Globe.

Snake Infested Canyons.

This is said by old timers to be the best year for rattlesnakes—or the worst—in the history of the county. The canyons are full of them, and snake stories are heard on all sides.

On that part of the Guadalupe ranch known as the De Grasse tract there are a number of tumble-down shacks. Recently Charles Pitcher, who lives in the neighborhood, had business on the place and in visiting the shacks found and killed a big rattlesnake. He heard another and before he was through he had killed ten.

His experience was told to the Pidduck brothers, who had themselves farmed that tract. The Pidducks had their doubts and went to investigate. They killed 17 snakes. They heard more, but could not stand the war any longer and turned the thing over to the crew of the Donlon brothers' threshing machine, camped in that neighborhood. The threshers turned out the following Sunday and killed a total of 27 rattlers among the old buildings. That made 54 killed there. —Los Angeles Times.

Woman Structural Iron Worker.
"I just got tired of working around the house and being away from my husband all day long."

That explains why Mrs. Eva Talbert, 27, a pretty bride, left her cosy cottage in Canton to learn the dangerous structural iron working trade.

Go down to 311 Main street and you can see the only woman in the world who follows this hazardous work, high in the air on a five-story building risking life and limb, helping Harry Talbert, her brawny husband, put up fire escapes.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Disappointed.
"I thought I'd buy direct from the fountain head and save money."
"And you save?"
"No; I got soaked."

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they are all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use it to the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly testify, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until the cure is complete. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

GOTCH RETAINS TITLE

Dr. Roller Went Down to Defeat in Straight Falls.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Dr. Benjamin Franklin Roller must wait another year—maybe several. Before 10,000 persons in Convention hall last night Frank Gotch successfully defended his title as wrestling champion, defeating the Seattle challenger in straight falls.

The first fall was decided in 46:20, a half-Nelson and a crotch hold pinning Roller's shoulders to the mat. A toe hold, that's all, sent the doctor to the box office after second money after 27:39 in the second and deciding fall.

HIS OWN BREATH TO CHILD

Doctor Resuscitates Little One Who Seemingly Is Dead.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16.—After her heart had ceased to beat, when the breath had left the body, when there was no pulse and the color had left the face, when the eyes had begun to glaze and the body was limp in death, a physician blew the breath of life into the body of Margaretta Dwyer and she was restored to life after she was to all intents and purposes claimed by death.

The child swallowed the top of a pepper box which lodged in her windpipe. When the metal was removed there was no sign of life. The baby's parents, believing their child was dead, began to weep, and one person present placed his hand over the heart, but could detect no pulsation. Another felt of the wrists, but there was no pulse. Dr. Hardy obtained a piece of gauze and placed it over the child's mouth and nostrils. He closed the baby's nostrils with his fingers and placed his mouth over the baby's. He breathed his own breath into her mouth and forced the air into her lungs.

GOT A LITTLE SATISFACTION

Editor, Unable to Collect Bill for Paper, Could Afford to Affront the Widow.

To the editor of a little Maine newspaper there came the other day an indignant elderly woman, who waved a bit of paper in the editorial face.

"Looker here!" she said. "What does this mean—a bill for the Citizen to my husband that's been dead two years? Ye don't expect his widow to pay debts o' his contracted long after he's dead?"

"You say he has not been getting the paper?" said the editor, after long thought.

"No, ye donderhead!" screamed the woman, "I tell ye he's been dead two years!"

"Strange," mused the editor. "The postoffice department has not notified me of his failure to receive them. Quite sure you yourself haven't been enjoying the estimable educational values of a perusal of my sheet?"

"That ain't the point," argued the widow. "You've been sending the newspaper and a bill to a man that's dead. It's your affair, not mine."

"Well," said the editor finally, perceiving that he must be a loser, "in future, madam, I will cause an extra copy to be printed on asbestos to insure that your husband receives his Citizen regularly."

TOAD EVIDENTLY A THINKER

Clever Maneuver by Which Batrachian Foiled His Invertebrate Enemy, the Serpent.

The following snake story was told some years ago by a reputable citizen of Anson county: Driving along a public road one day he saw a toad frog crossing the road at top speed—hitting only the high places and few of them. As the frog disappeared in the bosky underbrush on one side a black snake in hot pursuit made its appearance on the other. The storyteller followed the two into the bushes to see what the result would be. He had proceeded only a short distance when he found the frog at bay, facing the snake and with the latter circling about in the effort to make an attack from the rear. His frogship kept turning all the time, always facing the enemy.

The reason of this maneuver on the snake's part was that the frog had in its mouth, held crosswise and about the middle, a stick about the size and length of a lead pencil. The frog knew the snake could not swallow him so long as he presented such a front. The man watched the performance for some time and when he left the snake was still circling the frog and the latter facing its enemy on every turn.—Charlotteville Observer.

A London Problem.

They are dealing with a psychological problem in London that is not on the cards. The "problem" is nothing less than a little baby boy in the Wickham workhouse, a scrap of a child only two years and four months old, who no sooner has to make any serious remark than he rolls forth such a string of unmitigated billingsgate that he petrifies all who hear him. He is described as a beautiful child with dark, soulful eyes, soft fair hair, chubby limbs and the face of an angel. At ordinary times he is the best of boys, but does anything upsets his equanimity he brings into play such a volume of foul language that he quite contaminates the infant ward. Where the baby learned to curse and swear is the question. It has been so far a mystery, as his antecedents are unknown, and his age so tender his comprehension of the forms of language might well be of the slightest, but such does not appear to be the case. This little workhouse baby evidently knows what he is talking about.

COOPER COUNTY SHOOTING

Well Known Farmer Has to Have a Leg Amputated.

Bunceton, Mo., Nov. 16.—Physicians amputated the right leg of Elmer Brubaker yesterday. Brubaker is a young farmer living southwest of this city. He was shot by Bruce Bidstrup, another farmer, a neighbor, Saturday night.

Bidstrup says he has heard and seen persons prowling about his house at night. Saturday evening, he says, he took his gun and hid in his yard and waited.

In less than half an hour a man appeared at one of his windows. He fired and the charge struck the visitor in the right leg below the knee. It was then discovered the intruder was Brubaker, according to Bidstrup.

Brubaker reveres the story. Here's his tale: He discovered a man on his premises late Saturday evening and pursued him. The pursued entered Bidstrup's home, with Brubaker close upon his heels. The latter went to the window to see who it was he chased and saw Bidstrup aim his gun. He then ran and was shot by Bidstrup.

Both families are widely known in this county. Brubaker's condition is serious. No arrests have yet been made.

BAD WRECK ON FRISCO

Engine and Cars Plunged Down an Embankment.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Denison, Texas, Nov. 16.—South-bound Frisco passenger train No. 507, due here at 8:35 last night, was wrecked at Red River Junction, Okla., near here, at about 8 o'clock.

The train was traveling at a high rate of speed when the engine, tender, mail, express and baggage cars plunged down a thirty-foot embankment. Engineer Harvey Wells, Fireman L. Hefner and Express Messenger Cole were all seriously if not fatally injured and burned.

A wrecking and relief train, with physicians and trained nurses aboard, left here at midnight to care for the injured. The wreck was cleared this morning and the injured conveyed to the company's hospital at Sherman, Texas. Recent heavy rains softened the earth, causing the embankment to slide under the weight of the fast moving train.

TOO MISCHIEVOUS FOR PET

French Author's Good Reason for Replacing Monkey with the Harmless Puss.

A Paris contemporary dealing with the love of great men for animals gives an amusing account of Chateaubriand and his monkey. When he was engaged in preparing Fontanes' works for the press, on returning one day he was met by his monkey.

"Ah, you rogue," said Chateaubriand, "your shamefaced look tells of mischief." The monkey was chained up, but as things did not appear much disturbed, Chateaubriand thought no more of the matter until it was time to resume work. Fontanes' manuscripts were not to be found.

At last Chateaubriand looked into the waste basket and there were the manuscripts. The monkey had watched his master, and as he had seen him fold a sheet of paper and tear it into four, so he had dealt with Fontanes' writings. With much labor they were pieced together and afterward published.

Chateaubriand thought it advisable to see what else the monkey had done. His orders had disappeared from a drawer which was always kept closed. The servants searched everywhere for them, but they were not to be found. Nearly a week elapsed before they were traced, and then a domestic noticed that the monkey had suspended them to the cornice in a quasi systematic way.

The monkey was given his conge and Chateaubriand replaced him by a cat, which was allowed a place on his master's writing table, and great was the pleasure which he derived in playing with puss.

OFFICIALS HAVE ABANDONED HOPE

Relatives of Victims, However, Still Continue to Cluster Around the Top, Begging Others to Attempt a Rescue.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 16.—Geological Director George F. Rice, of Pittsburg, today took the temperature at the top of the shaft of the burning St. Paul mine, in which three hundred men are entombed, and found it reached 108 Fahrenheit, indicating that it will probably be impossible to break the sealed shaft today.

Hope that any of the entombed men will be found alive has been long abandoned by the mine officials. Not so with the grief-stricken relatives, many of whom are clustered about the top of the shaft piteously begging the officials for one ray of hope.

Many of them remained at the mine all night, hoping the dawn would bring rescue. The funeral of the victims whose bodies were recovered Saturday was held today and all the surviving miners attended in a body.

VERDICT IN CASTO CASE

May Be Reached in Criminal Court Late This Afternoon.

The giving of testimony in the manslaughter case of Everett Casto in connection with the death of Anna Bell, a domestic, in criminal court was concluded by the state today, the defense deciding to put no witnesses on the stand.

Attorneys are making their arguments to the jury as the Democrat-Sentinel goes to press, and a verdict will probably be reached late this evening.

The witnesses examined for the state were: John T. Stinson, in whose employ the girl was working; Constable Davis, of Warsaw, who assisted in arresting Casto; William Farmer, a former deputy constable, who assisted in the arrest of the prisoner; John Brown, a negro, employed by one of the three defendants; Dr. R. T. Miller, coroner at that time; John Stotts, at whose home the alleged crime is said to have been committed, and Will Chiford, who testified to the defendants having purchased liquor from him.

The following jury will decide the case: Ed Powell, R. P. Finley, J. H. Farley, J. P. Collins, James McCampbell, F. W. Phipps, J. H. Light, H. S. Tenner, W. B. Myers, Charles Estabrook, R. E. Bouldin and Louis Spickert.

The court room has been crowded all during the trial, even standing room being taken, likewise the room reserved for witnesses and attorneys.

DREADFUL DISEASE IS CURED BY CUTICURA

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it, although we did not know it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine but it did not help her and I tried several remedies but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all skin diseases and give them my greatest praise. Mrs. Geo. L. Fridhoff, R. F. D. 1, Warren, Mich., June 30 and July 13, 1908."

Medicine Man Made Good.

In the August Wide World Magazine, C. H. E. Askwith of Ottawa, tells an amusing story of "rain-making." The prosperity of the Yukon is, as every one knows, closely bound up with an abundant rainfall, and in order to insure this the services of a "rain-making expert" were enlisted by the government and a committee of mine owners. He failed, whereupon Silas, hereditary chief of the Moosehide Indians, staked his reputation that his tribal medicine man could do more wonders than all the paleface's science. Nature, through a remarkable coincidence, came to his assistance—with the unlooked-for results that the Yukon got all the rain it wanted, and that the entire tribe of Moosehides went back to the faith of their savage forefathers. "The facts are strictly as I relate them," writes the author. "I was at that time editor of the Yukon Daily World, and took a small part in the affair."

Calls for Courage.

"No matter how watermelon may be cut up or served in fancy style, it never tastes better than when placed before one in the good, old-fashioned southern slice," said a man in the Waldorf-Astoria the other night. "I would have it oftener, but no one feels more conspicuous than the man who calls for it and has his waiter approach in state with the huge, scarlet slice. It seems as if every one in the room turned to stare. It takes nerve to eat watermelon. As for can'teloupe and ice cream as a desert, they are all right if a little apricot brandy is put into the melon before the ice cream. That blends the flavor delightfully."

INDICTS WARRINER

FORMER BIG FOUR TREASURER
ONLY CHARGED WITH TAKING $10,000.

CONSTITUTED THE LATEST THEFT

The Company's Cash Books Prior to 1905 Are Missing and the Extent of the Defalcation May Never Be Known.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 16.—Charles L. Warriner, former local treasurer of the Big Four railroad, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on charges of grand larceny and embezzlement in the amount of $5,000 on each count.

While $643,000 is known to have been stolen from the railroad, the startling fact was developed by yesterday's proceedings that the company's cash books prior to 1905 have disappeared and that it will never be possible to tell the full amount of the giant defalcation.

The comparatively small amount upon which Warriner was indicted was the latest known theft. It has been placed at that figure in order that if conviction fails the railroad authorities may proceed on any other of the numerous counts. This means that the prosecution may be maintained indefinitely.

Amazing figures were presented yesterday, showing the progress of the thefts for the last five years. The shortage thus estimated is as follows:

In 1905, $58,000; 1906, $59,000; 1907, $59,999; 1908, $62,000; 1909, $23,000. Total for five years, $322,000.

Of this sum Warriner claims to have paid $400 a month to each of two persons in the form of blackmail. The rest, he alleges, he lost in speculation.

By far the most interesting figure to appear before the grand jury yesterday was that of Mrs. Jeannette Stewart-Ford, the woman whose connection with the case is still a mystery. After she had given her evidence, she declared she had said nothing beyond the indefinite statements which she has already made public.

After the grand jury had adjourned for the day Prosecutor Hunt announced that Warriner would be summoned as a witness to give evidence against the persons whom he accuses of blackmail.

ORIGIN OF WORD "WAGON"

Comes from Some Aryan Root as Does "Wagging" and "Way," Meaning a Path.

In the first book of riddles ever written was the conundrum: "Why is a toll gate like a dead dog's tail? Because it stops a wagin."

Atrocious as appears the pun that tries to juggle with "wagon" and "wagging," it is really better than the writer of the atrocity and the casual reader ever knew, for "wagon" and "wagging" are identical and are children of a long line of honored ancestry.

It is the motion that makes them alike, and this idea of motion dates far back to the days when the Aryan languages, now reaching from the east coast of India to the west coast of the United States, were one tongue in the beginning of its formation.

The root from which they grew is "wagh," and one meaning of it is the same as our "wag," as it signifies going from side to side, to move, to carry, to pass over and turning from one point to another.

This root lies at the foundation of our word "way," whether we use it as a road, or path, or distance, or direction. It is what we move over, or the direction we move, or the distance we move. Even if we want our own "way," it is the manner in which we see fit to move. In our "wagon" it is the thing that moves and in the dog's tail the sort of motion.

All similar words come to our English more directly through the Teutonic base "wega," which means both a way and to wag. When the root went into the Sanskrit the "w" got the "v" sound, so our East Indian brothers say "vagh" for carry and call a road vehicle and a horse all "vaha."

In the Latin it became "via," which we use for way, and through which we get our "viaduct" and "vehicle."

In all of the words in all of the various languages into which "wagh" has gone there is always the idea of the thing that moves, the path over which it moves or the manner of its motion. —New York Herald.

MULE DISCOVERS RICH MINE

Ownership of Property Subject of Interesting Decision by Spokane Judge.

Judge Norman S. Buck, a member of the lower house of the Washington legislature died at Spokane. Judge Buck was a pioneer resident of that district and of the Coeur d'Alene mining district and was widely known and popular.

In the late '80's Judge Buck rendered a decision while sitting on the bench in Idaho that attracted attention throughout the nation, as it decided the ownership of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine, the greatest silver-lead producer in the world, still said to worth $10,000,000 and having an annual output of over $3,000,000.

The mine was located by Phil O'Rourke and his partner during a prospecting tour in the winter of 1884-85 as a result of the uncovering of the outcropping through the pawing of a pack mule which they had found astray and appropriated. "Dutch Jake" Goetz and Harry Baer owned the mule, and Judge Buck decided that they were therefore entitled to a grubstake interest in the mine. They sold their interest for $300,000, which became the foundation for a much greater fortune accumulated in business in Spokane.

HELD FOR A THEFT

TWO MEN, FOR TWO YEARS UN-SUSPECTED, CHARGED WITH POSTOFFICE JOB.

THEY HAVE NOT YET CONFESSED

Search of One Suspect's Home Reveals Hiding Place of Plunder—The Job Was Done in Kansas City.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—Charles D. Hall and Louis Spero, living for years under the noses of the St. Paul authorities, have been arrested and held in connection with the Kansas City postoffice robbery of March 20, last.

Dynamite, nitroglycerin, drills and hundreds of dollars worth of stamps were seized in a barn at 154 Nina street, St. Paul, where the two are said to have maintained headquarters for two years.

Hall and Spero, with Mrs. Hall and three children, live at 912 Izlehart street.

M. C. Fosnes, postoffice inspector, conducted the case. Hall was arrested Saturday, his house searched from cellar to attic and stamps worth $285 found, together with giant powder, drills, saws, crucibles, assayers' stamps, lead pipe, money stamps and other suspicious contraband.

Spero was arrested later, upon information given by Hall, although neither of the men has made any confession of the Kansas City robbery.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Sedalia People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Sedalia people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. M. H. Roderick, 1904 S. Lamine St., Sedalia, Mo., says: "I was troubled off and on for two years with pain in my back. Any exertion would exhaust me and I noticed that the trouble was worse during cold or damp weather. I could not rest well and I was at a loss to know what to do. At last I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and had my husband procure a box for me at Bard's drug store. I was soon cured, and during the seven years that have since passed I have been free from the trouble."

PLAYED A TRICK ON DARWIN

Youth Put Up Funny Joke on the Great Scientist When a Schoolboy.

The celebration of the Darwin centenary in England brings out a story of how Darwin, when a youngster, was the victim of one of the funniest schoolboy tricks ever played. A pleasant youth, who had "credit" at certain shops, took him into an establishment and bought tarts and what-not, and walked out of the shop without paying. Darwin was surprised. "Oh, don't you know why?" said his sophisticated companion. "Don't you know that my uncle left a great fortune to the town on condition that every tradesman should give whatsoever was wanted without payment to anyone who wore his old hat and moved it in a particu-

ular manner?" The magic hat was therefore forced upon the youthful genius, who was persuaded to enter and try its spell. He ordered cakes enough to gladden the hearts of a schoolful, and waved the hat vigorously at the shopkeeper. But the latter worthy was not under its influence. He made a rush for his customer, and what the latter suffered as he dropped his wares and bolted is not recorded.

Indiana Girl Runs Engine.

Mrs. Harriett Spangler, yet in her teens, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Spangler of Union township, Indiana, probably holds the record of being the only girl engineer in the state. However this may be, she is an engineer and a good one, as any person may see any day should he find her running the engine for her brother's threshing outfit.

For several years while her brother was running his sawmill she often usurped the position of fireman, which she performed as well as a veteran, and the idea grew upon her that she might also be the engineer. She decided that she could run the traction engine for her brother's threshing during the season, and she got the position, which she is filling in an ideal manner.

She fires the engine and attends to the mechanism and can run the outfit on the road while traveling from one stand to another as well as anyone. Fork.

A NARROW ESCAPE

KANSAS BANK ROBBER HAD IT AT THE HANDS OF YOUNG SEDALIAN.

LATTER SAYS HE WAS ON THE SPOT

George C. Hoffman is a Truthful Gentleman, as He Himself Will Testify—Tells of His Nervous Wrecking Experience.

George Hoffman, the well known insurance adjuster, left Monday afternoon for a business visit at Springfield, Mo.

George, prior to his departure, caused no little excitement among a crowd of men with whom he was conversing by narrating a hair-raising experience he figured in last week. "Gentlemen," he started out, "did you read of that Eudora, Kan., boy bank robber?"

On learning that all had read the newspaper accounts of the boy robber, George began telling his story. "Do you know that I was in that bank when Bullock entered. I was standing near a side window talking to the assistant cashier when Bullock made the demand for money.

"I'll tell you, gentlemen, I never had such a nerve-wrecking experience. After Bullock had made the demand for the money in sight he cast a glance in my direction. I looked to see if it was merely a joke, and saw a huge Colt's revolver staring me in the face.

"I thought of home, of my Sedalia friends and for a moment I seemed paralyzed. I didn't know what to do. Suddenly the robber turned his attention to the cashier for a second time, and then the assistant with whom I was talking ran to his superior's aid.

"Just then Bullock fired. The fright was tremendous. I couldn't talk for several minutes, but finally I regained sufficient composure to leave the bank via a rear door, and just in time to participate in the chase for that youth.

"If I only had been possessed of a revolver I think I could have rendered invaluable aid to that bank cashier, for gentlemen, you all know me—I can't fight, but I surely can argue, and with a weapon in hand I would have made that boy think of something other than robbing a bank."

The crowd of gentlemen to whom George had narrated the tale said nothing until the speaker had finished, and then George boarded the train, being content not to hear the comments of those present.

OLD FRIEND IN TEXAS

We Get a Letter From An Old Friend Which Makes Us Feel Good.

Alba, Texas—"I was born in Tennessee," writes Mrs. Mary E. Watson, from Alba, Texas, "and I can praise Cardui, for we have used it ever since 1881, twenty-eight years ago. I wish I knew how many dollars I have spent for it."

"My daughter-in-law is now taking it, and all my neighbors think it is fine."

Cardui may be taken year after year, at times when its benefit is needed, and as a general tonic, without any bad after-effects whatever.

Many drugs, like quinine, acetanilide, iodine of potassium, etc., cannot be so taken, without doing you more harm than they do you good.

Be careful what you put into your stomach, as lasting injury frequently results from the regular use of powerful drugs and medicines.

Cardui cannot possibly do you anything but good, as it is a mild, gentle tonic, of purely vegetable ingredients, non-mineral, non-toxicating, non-poisonous—harmless to young and old.

Thousands of ladies have testified to the beneficial results that come from the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It strengthens, builds, restores, and relieves or prevents unnecessary pain and suffering.

MEN CENSORS OF MILLINERY

They Are Responsible for Decided Slump in Prices, According to Washington Dealer.

To watch the parade on F street no one would dream that there was a slump in the millinery trade. Nevertheless, high-class milliners say that there is, and moreover, they blame the men for it.

"We are almost giving our hats away," said the head of the millinery department in one of the big stores in this city. "In all my 20 years' experience I never knew millinery to be sold for so little. Hats sellings last year at $25 and $35 are now selling for $10 and $15. I should say that there was a difference of from 10 to 30 per cent. all along the line."

"I believe the men are much to blame for this state of affairs, for they sat down so unmercifully on the early styles. You see, we started in with many odd styles, what are called in the trade freak shapes, but their life was short. The styles changed almost in the twinkling of an eye, so that the extreme styles of the early spring literally had to be thrown away. Hats costing $50 and $75 went up to the workroom to have the trimming removed, and the shapes were dumped into the wastebasket."

"You see, husbands simply shut down on their wives wearing such extreme styles. I have had no end of business men come to the shop this spring in company with their wives to pick out their hats, to prevent them from investing in a peach-basket, wash-basin, or inverted-bowl shape. Never before has so much fun been poked at millinery as this season. The consequence is that the bottom dropped out of prices, and they have not been re-established."—Washington Star.

THROUGH COMBAT TO VICTORY

Strong, Vigorous Character Arrives at Fruition by Wrestling With and Overcoming Obstacles.

It is the wrestling with obstacles and the overcoming of difficulties that have made man a giant of achievement.

If we could analyze a strong, vigorous character, we should find it made up largely of the conquering habit, the habit of overcoming, says Orison Swett Marden in Success.

On the other hand, if we should analyze a weak character we should find just the reverse—the habit of failure, the habit of letting things slide, of yielding instead of conquering—the lack of courage, of persistency or grit.

There is the same difference between a self-made young man, who has fought his way up to his own loaf, and the pampered youth who has never been confronted by great responsibilities that would exercise his powers and call out his reserves, that there is between the stalwart oak which has struggled for its existence with a thousand storms, with all the extremities of the elements, and the hothouse plant which has never been allowed to feel a breath of frost or a rough wind.

Every bit of the oak's fiber has registered a victory, so that when its timber is called upon to wrestle with storms and the fury of the sea, it says, "I am no stranger to storms; I have met them many a time before. I feel within me stamina and fiber to resist the fury of any sea, because I have fought and overcome its equal a thousand times."

The hothouse plant succumbs to the first adverse wind.

AS THEY DO IT IN ENGLAND

Family Inherited Postmastership, Though the Department Officials Didn't Know It.

Forty years before, as quite a boy, Jones had left a little town in Kent. Now, on the first long vacation he ever had since, he was visiting his childhood scenes. He had remembered that the postmaster's name was Pengelly, and he had remembered, too, that he was a kindly old man. There wasn't the slightest probability, he thought, that the postmaster was still alive, but his acquaintance with the former incumbent might smooth things a little with the new one, so that the whereabouts of people to whom he had been directed would be made known.

"What's become of Mr. Pengelly?" he asked, interrupting for a moment his majesty's letter assorter.

"I am Mr. Pengelly."

"Perhaps you're his son."

"Yes, my father's name was Pengelly, too," drawled the Englishman.

"I mean the postmaster."

"So do I."

"Was your father postmaster 40 years ago?"

"My word, no! That was my grandfather. You see, our names are all alike, and the post-office department doesn't know but that the first one is alive. We inherit this job, don't you know. And my wife's just presented me with a son. There was no haggling over his name."

The Most Remarkable Guarantee Ever Made on a Heating Stove

We have received a letter from the President of the Cole Manufacturing Company which specifically states that they can guarantee Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove to save a third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal, slack or lignite; it is guaranteed to hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning; guaranteed to have a smoke-proof feed door; guaranteed to run an air-tight as long as used; guaranteed to give a uniform heat day and night with soft coal, hard coal or lignite; guaranteed to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with the same size fire pot, and guaranteed to heat the rooms from one to three hours in the morning with the fuel put in the day before (which does away with kindling or rebuilding the fire each morning).

This guarantee comes with Cole's Hot Blast, which can be bought only from us. When you analyze this guarantee and see how they state in black and white just what it will do in comparison with other soft coal stoves, and even with hard coal base burners, it is safe to say that the majority of stoves bought this season for heating purposes will be the famous Cole's Hot Blast, for which we are the exclusive selling agents for this town. We have these stoves on our floor and will be pleased to show them to every one interested. Come soon.

AMUSEMENTS

"BABES IN TOYLAND."

The Victor Herbert Operatic Extravaganza a Musical Gem.

There is one quality about Victor Herberts light opera music which distinguishes it from that supplied by almost all of the other American composers—it wears well. While it may not be so "catchy" the first time it is heard, as are the productions of certain other writers, yet the auditors discover that even after a single hearing certain phrases and strains linger in his memory, and that each succeeding time he hears the music the better he is pleased with it and the more attractive and satisfactory

tractions display little formality in their invitations asking President Taft to attend their plays. Upon reaching Washington they communicate with the executive's secretary, simply saying they would like to have the former grace the audience. In the envelope is enclosed coupons for a box for the secretary. He invariably attends the production on the opening night, and if he likes it the president comes some day later in the week. In the event it does not please him he sends Mr. Taft's regrets.

In New York, however, the situation is different. When Mr. Taft reaches that city he is generally besieged by scores of press agents with their invitations. In consequence he declines them all, and in the event

it seems. In other words, it is music of inherent merit, light in manner, but free from banality and poverty of idea. This quality distinguishes the score Mr. Herbert has supplied for "Babes in Toyland," and this distinction not only lends value to the performance, but in a large measure is common to the entire production. The book and lyrics, contributed by Glen MacDonough, are far above the average in brilliancy.

The great New York and Chicago success comes to Wood's opera house Thursday evening, Nov. 18, with all the original New York production, complete in every particular, produced under the personal stage direction of Julian Mitchell, America's greatest originator of unique stage ensembles, who gave us "The Wizard of Oz" and sundry other masterpieces of modern stage management.

he decides to attend a performance he sends his check for a box. He visited the metropolis in February, when "The Girl From Rector's" was in the midst of its great run at Weber's Music hall. The press representatives knew the president would not accept an invitation in the formal way, so he simply tried a new method. He wrote a note in which he enclosed coupons for a box and informed the president that if he cared to attend the play to send his check for $20. The president was so taken with the novel invitation that he accepted and enjoyed the piece immensely.

"The Girl From Rector's" is playing limited engagements this season. It will be seen here at Wood's opera house Sunday evening, Nov. 21.

"If I Could Only Room In One of Those Residences"

How often have you heard some young man of your acquaintance make this remark as he passed by some big homelike houses in Sedalia? Or perhaps you have said it yourself.

Those homes with their wide, shady porches and big yard with wooden swings and croquet grounds don't look much like the crowned, weather-worn affair which, for $3 00 a week, you are permitted to call your "home."

It is not at all impossible for you to room in one of these fine homes if you go about it in the right manner.

Such homes as these don't rent rooms for profit, so consequently they do not advertise them. But they know how young men feel in a strange city and are often willing to have the right sort of a young fellow come into the influence of their family circle.

Your only way of reaching these people is through a want ad in the Democrat-Sentinel, and if you state your case in a simple, straightforward way that carries the right ring with it, mentioning the location you desire, you will find this suggestion both practical and profitable in ways that work out in the development of your character.

FAMILY OF GENTRY

BOOK JUST PUBLISHED DEALS WITH PETTIS COUNTY PEOPLE.

IT GOES FAR BACK IN HISTORY

Were Soldiers of the King in 1684, and Since Have Been Prominent in the History of This Country.

Seventy-seven years after the first settlers in America began to till the soil of Virginia a British regiment was sent to Jamestown in that colony to suppress the Bacon rebellion, says today's Kansas City Times. Two of these soldiers were Nicholas and Samuel Gentry. Ten years ago there was a family reunion at Crab Orchard, Ky. Nearly five hundred Gentrys were present. Inspired by this sight, Richard Gentry, of Kansas City, set to work tracing the genealogy of those five hundred and the scores of Gentrys not present at the reunion. He succeeded in tracing the family origin to the Virginia Gentrys, who landed as soldiers of the king in Virginia in 1684. The result of these years of work is condensed in a handsome volume which has more than six thousand names in its index of forty pages.

Mr. Gentry is of the seventh generation in direct descent from Nicholas Gentry, the soldier emigrant, and is the fourth Richard. Richard the First fought in the Revolution; he was the great grandson of the original Nicholas and he is to a large extent responsible for the greatness of the Gentry clan. He had nineteen children, of whom sixteen were sons. Eight of the sons came to Missouri and took active part in molding the destinies of the state. Reuben E. Gentry was one of these. General Richard Gentry, killed in the Florida war, was another. This extract from a letter written by the former to the latter gives some idea of the precise and practical character of the writer.

David and James Gentry came to Boone county in 1820. Christy Gentry settled in Ralls county ten years later and spent his life founding Baptist churches. Joshua Gentry made his home in what is now Marion county in 1823, three years before the county was organized. He held various military and political positions in the state and was president and general manager of the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad company at the time of his death, just before the completion of the line. George B. Nettleton, of Kansas City, was his chief engineer. Although Joshua Gentry was a large slaveholder, he took the side of the Union in the civil war. Rodas Gentry settled in Ralls county; most of his descendants live in Oregon.

NEWS OF THE RAIL

THE PLAN OF THE MISSOURI PACIFIC TO BE ANNOUNCED AT EARLY DAY.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Bond investors have been placed in a state of expectancy by the news that announcement of the Missouri Pacific's financing is likely to be made within a few days, says a New York dispatch of the 15th to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

There are two reasons why this announcement should be awaited with perhaps an unusual amount of interest—(1) that it will set at rest the speculation so long indulged in as to what kind of a mortgage the company has been able to create, after practically a year of almost continuous effort to satisfy its financial backers on that point, and (2) that the public offering of the bonds, the amount of which it is said will be in the neighborhood of $50,000,000, will afford a better test than has been made in some time of the absorptive power of the investment market.

Rumor has it that the bonds to be offered now, as a part of an authorized issue of between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000, will bear 5 per cent interest, and that they will have the convertible feature attached. From the time when negotiations were first begun looking toward the financing of the road's requirements, the understanding has been that the new mortgage would be a comprehensive one, providing for the ultimate refunding of the entire mortgage indebtedness, amounting to about $96,500,000.

It has been stated also that the new mortgage would be a first lien on several hundred miles of the system, as constituted under the consolidation plan effected only a comparatively short time ago.

Katy to Erect Roundhouse.

As one of the first steps toward the establishment of larger terminals in North St. Louis, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Terminal company, of St. Louis, the title of a holding corporation of the Katy railroad, yesterday applied to Building Commissioner Smith for permission to erect a round house at Broadway and Gimlin street, says Tuesday's St. Louis Republic. The estimated cost of the structure is $40,000.

The land which the railroad company bought for terminal purposes and which has been transferred to "straw men" and the Commonwealth Trust company during the last few months was yesterday formally turned over to the railroad and recorded. The property includes more than three city blocks. The consideration in the deed was nominal, but the company has expended more than $2,000,000 in buying the property.

Katy Brakeman's Bad Break.

While Freight Conductor Ira R. Land was going south on his regular run last Saturday, his wife ran away with L. E. Evans, a Katy brakeman, deserting two as handsome little boys as ever gladdened the heart of a father or made a home happy, says yesterday's Parsons Sun.

Before she deserted her husband she forged the name of her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Metcalf, to a check for fifty dollars and cashed this at the Parsons Commercial bank.

But this was not all that Mrs. Land brought to her lover. She took to him over a hundred dollars of her husband's last month's wages, and with this booty, taken from the home she despoiled, she and her lover left town.

Electing Kings

"Brethren, Give Diligence
to Make Your Calling and Election Sure."
(II Peter i. 10).

Correspondence Democrat-Sentinel.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Pastor Russell, of Brooklyn tabernacle, preached today from the above text to a large and attentive audience as usual. He said:—

Throughout the length and breadth of this land of liberty, young and old understood full well the significance of election. Councilmen, aldermen, mayors of cities, county officials, state officials, United States congressmen, senators, the president and vice president are chosen or elected from amongst the people to their various official stations. They are chosen with a view to the blessing that will accrue to the electors by the exercise of their official positions. How strange, then, that we who are so familiar with these things should read into our text so very different a view of election!

The thought should naturally suggest itself to us that if God is electing or selecting a church in the present time, it must be with a view to the use of that church subsequently to serve in some manner the interests of the remainder of the world, from amongst whom they were elected. And this is just what the Scriptures teach; namely, that Christ Jesus himself is the Head, the Captain, the Chief Ruler, and that this "elect" company are, figuratively speaking, his "members," his associates, his under-priesthood. The Scriptures tell us that this selection is according to Divine foreknowledge and foreordination. They tell us that God foreknew our Lord Jesus as the one who would occupy the glorious position of Prophet, Priest, Mediator and King of the world during the Millennium. They tell us also that the same God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ foreknew us also and "predestinated" that there should be a church class selected from amongst the world, to be their Redeemer's associate, his under-priesthood, his subordinate kings during the Millennium.

The Elect Now and Hereafter.

The church is spoken of as God's "elect" now, before the election has been finished; before the testing is completed; before the called have been proven faithful and worthy. These are "elect" in the sense of having been nominated—"moved and seconded." God moved that they should be elected, and "called them with a heavenly calling." It remained for the called ones themselves to "second the motion" by presenting themselves in full consecration of heart to the Lord. But this was not sufficient; for the invited ones were recognized as imperfect and unable to come up to the requirements of the call. Hence it was necessary that the Lord Jesus Christ should become their surety and agree out of his own fulness of merit to supply all of their lack, their imperfection. And this he gladly does by applying for such the merit of his sin-atonement-sacrifice finished at Calvary.

Making the Election Sure.

Keeping before our minds that the heavenly Father made the motion or the call, that we seconded it by accepting the call upon its terms of faith and consecration unto death, and that our Lord Jesus is our surety who will make good our unintentional blemishes, what shall we say of the prospects of our being elected and at whose door shall we lay the responsibility if we are not elected? Surely the unchangeable God who nominated us has made every provision for our election and will co-operate. Surely our Redeemer, our Surety, our Advocate, will give us every assistance in the way and, according to his promise, cause all things to work together for our good. Just as surely, therefore, the entire responsibility for failure would lie at our door. And this is what St. Peter in our text declares, "Make your calling and election sure."

From this standpoint we have a special interest in our own election, such as we never had before when we misunderstood the entire matter. Once in our ignorance we thought that St. Peter had written foolishly about our making the election sure; for according to the erroneous theory which we had "swallowed" without proper mastication, God was doing all the electing himself, and had unalterably fixed our destiny as eternal glory or eternal suffering, long centuries before we were born.

This erroneous view blinded our mental sight from all the various incentives which now are so precious and so helpful. What had God elected us to be and to do? To sit upon a cloud and to sing to all eternity, cheerfully looking over the battlements of heaven to see our dear friends writhing in torment—and striving hard to praise God for it all and to think of his course in our election and their damnation as the exemplification of Justice and of Love?

We read indeed in the Scriptures respecting a kingdom, for which our Lord taught us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done in earth as it is done in heaven," yet the thrall of error upon us was so tense that we recognized not the inconsistency between these promises and our false hopes. Now, thank God, "the mystery" is revealed to us in God's Word and by his Spirit, and we perceive that the Millennial Kingdom is to be a reality and that its blessing to mankind in general, "to all the families of the earth," is to be most thorough, most systematic, most complete, and in the end entirely satisfactory.

Kings to Be Elected.

What an interest we properly take in this matter of our election, after learning that the office for which we are running is a combination of priesthood and kingship! The elect are to be priestly kings, or, otherwise styled, "a Royal Priesthood." Their glorious service is to be for a period of one thousand years, during which they will be kings and priests unto God and will reign over the earth (Revelation xx. 4; I Peter ii. 9).

They will not "reign on the earth" in the sense of being earthly beings, having earthly courts and thrones; their resurrection change will constitute them heavenly or spirit beings; they will be invisible to mankind, as now the "Prince of this world" is invisible and as the holy angels are invisible. But they will possess heavenly power and authority and wisdom and grace. By these glorious attributes they will be able to serve God and humanity by a reign of righteousness, whose uplifting or restriction influences (Acts iii. 21) will begin with the living generations, but eventually extend to "all the families of the earth," who have been going down for the past six thousand years into the great prison house of death—"prisoners of hope," however, because of the promise of God's Word and the redemption sacrifice of Jesus.

My beloved hearers, if your hearts are not moved by this message of God's grace and this information respecting His kingdom and of your prospect of becoming kings and priest in that kingdom, it is because you do not believe the message—because your faith does not properly grasp the "exceeding great and precious promises" of God's word (II Peter i. 4). I am aware that this whole message by Jesus and His apostles has been so long covered by the rubbish of "the dark ages" that it was lost to our sight for a long while, and sadly we missed its encouragement to faithfulness. I am glad, however, that now the eyes of understanding are opening to see the length and breadth and height and depth in the great Divine Plan of the Ages.

The Value of Earthly Crowns.

Consider for a moment what fabulous prices have been paid for earthly crowns! Thousands of lives have been sacrificed and millions of money, to gain an earthly crown. And thousands who paid this price knew well that "uneasy rests the head which wears the crown." They knew well, too, that its tenure would be precarious and that the attainment of it would bring them lasting hatred from others who aspired to the same position and who considered that their right to it was as good or better.

What comparison should we institute as between the value of such a crown and the "crown of glory," honor and immortality which God has promised to His elect—to such of them as make their calling and their election sure! Has God placed too high a valuation upon the heavenly crown, in demanding that those who would share it with the Redeemer must prove their loyalty to Him and to the principles of righteousness, and to the spirit of love, to the extent of laying down their lives in His service and in "doing good unto all men as they have opportunity, especially to the household of faith?"

Our Lord asked wherein would be the profit to any man if he were to gain the whole world and lose his own soul—lose his future life. For the purpose of our present topic we might ask a modified question, namely, if one should gain the empire of the whole earth and all of its riches, and if another should gain this heavenly election to the heavenly kingdom of one thousand years and to subsequent eternal blessings with the Lord, which of these would choose the better part—which would show the real wisdom, and which would be the foolish one? But the contrast increases when we note that the commission of earth cannot be secured by our sailing through bloody seas, and that a mere competency of earthly wealth is attained by only one of a thousand who strive for it day and night. Surely from the standpoint of the Father's Word all earthly honors are vanities, in comparison with the heavenly glories and blessings which may be surely attained by the "called" of this Gospel age—if they will but follow the divine directions.

Terms and Conditions of Election.

In our context St. Peter tells us upon what terms the called and accepted may make their election sure. After calling our attention to God's exceeding great and precious promises he tells us that they were given us to the intent that they should operate in our minds so as to influence our lives, in harmony with the Divine will; and that thus we may "become partakers of the Divine nature, after having escaped the corruption that is in the world through desire"—selfishness, lust (verse 4). He proceeds to amplify, and urges that such as have this hope shall give all diligence to the matter of adding to their faith virtue or fortitude. That is to say, faith of itself is very good as a start, but God requires more than this. As a condition of our acceptance for election He requires that our faith shall be of a strong kind, giving us fortitude for all of life's affairs; for all of our covenants with the Lord; for a faithful endurance of opposition, contradiction, etc., that thus we might be copies of our Lord Jesus Christ, as God has ordained all of "the elect" must be (Romans viii. 29).

Not only must we have a strong faith combined with fortitude, but we must also add "knowledge." We require some knowledge of God and of our Lord Jesus and of the Gospel message before we could come unto the Lord at all, but the apostle is not referring to this, our earliest knowledge. He is addressing Christians who have already taken the first steps. He assures us that they need knowledge to enable them to go onward in Christian development—knowledge in addition to their faith and fortitude. We have nothing to say against worldly knowledge, scientific knowledge, etc., when these do not cross or interfere with the Divine revelation, but we are confident that the apostle did not intend to refer to worldly knowledge, but to the greatest of all scientific knowledge—the knowledge of God.

How shall we know God? By study of His character. Our Lord Jesus it was Who declared, "This is

Gives you leisure for calling, shopping, taking a nap, etc.
Turns Sunday dinners from drudgery to delight.
Prevents worry if husband or guests are late.
Does away with kitchen heat.
Cooks for breakfast over night.
Physicians say "the dyspeptic's best friend."
Fireless Cookers and the art of fireless cooking are old, having been used in Norway and the old world ages ago—the only difference is that our Cooker is built scientifically for all practical purposes.
In operation this wonderful invention is simplicity itself. You simply prepare the food to be cooked in the regular way—place it on the stove and bring it to boil—then immediately transfer to the Cooker, cover tightly, add the insulated pillow covering—drop the lid and let the Cooker do the rest. In a few hours remove the cover and serve the boiling hot—perfectly cooked and with a taste that will prove delightfully surprising.

THE COOKER

Is 24 inches long, 12 inches wide by 12 inches deep, made of kiln dried, specially prepared wood, dovetailed on all corners.

The cabinet is packed with chemically treated mineral wool which retains heat at the highest temperature.

The Cover is pressed steel, perfectly sanitary, and indestructible; it cannot wear out. The lining and Kettle Container is made of heavy seamless enameled tin, airtight and waterproof. Intense cold has absolutely no effect whatever on the contents of the Cooker. A dinner can be put in the Cooker and taken in the open air, on the back porch for example, even if the temperature is 20 degrees below zero, the cooking process will continue just as perfectly and scientifically as if the Cooker was in the house.

The Cooker contains a six-quart and also a four-quart enameled pressed steel cooking kettle with special airtight covers.

heart and enlightened by the Holy Spirit can receive this knowledge. It is taught only to the pupils in the school of Christ. "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his covenant."

Other Graces to Be Added.
The apostle continues his advice as to things necessary to be added by those who would make their calling and election sure. They must keep adding, and the adding must be little by little and day by day. The knowledge we gain of God through His Word should lead us to greater moderation (translated temperance in our common version). "Let your moderation be known unto all men" (Philippians iv, 5), moderation or balance in thought, in word, in action. God's people may be called extremists by those who are not begotten of the Holy Spirit and who know not "the mystery." But even they should be able to charge immoderation only by the one score—our immoderation, our faithfulness to the Word of the Lord and to our covenant of self-sacrifice as followers in the footsteps of Jesus. Our lives should be so moderate as respects business and pleasure and food and raiment, etc., that we should be examples of moderation and wisdom to all—extremists only along the same lines that Jesus and the apostles were counted extremists by those who know not, neither did they understand "the mystery" of their endeavor to be "the very elect."

Patience must not be forgotten. In addition to moderation. "Let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing." Next add godlikeness—general goodness, benevolence, benignity toward all. Add next brotherly kindness—in the natural family relationship, and also in the spiritual family, the church. "Love as brethren" (ought to love). "We ought also to lay down our lives for the brethren." Still further the apostle urges that while all of the foregoing are elements of love, we superadd love itself in its fullest sense toward the Lord, toward the brethren, toward humanity, toward the brute creation and toward our enemies. While all of these can not be loved in the same degree, all should profit by the spirit of love in our hearts for all.

"Ye Shall Never Fail."
Now comes the climax of the advice to those seeking to make their calling and election sure (verse 8). "If these things be in you and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." And then, as our text declares, if these things abound and if we give diligence to the making sure of our calling and election and do these things, we shall never fail—we shall in no case fail of securing our election. God seeketh such for joint-heirship with their Redeemer in the kingdom. God "seeketh such to worship him as worship him in spirit and in truth."

The grand consummation of our election—our kingdom honors and glories—is especially referred to by St. Peter in the next verse, saying: "For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." If, dear brethren, we believe these things, let us permit them to control our lives, our words, our deeds and our thoughts. Surely we can afford to be considered foolish along lines of the sacrifice of worldly interests, if thereby we can develop the character which our Lord desires, and prove ourselves worthy of a share in His kingdom.

WON BY WENTWORTH

Lexington Soldiers Overwhelm Fulton Eleven.

Lexington, Mo., Nov. 16.—In a driving rain and on a slippery field Wentworth Military academy overwhelmed Westminster college, of Fulton, last afternoon by a score of 57 to 6.

On account of the downpour time was called after seven minutes of play in the second half. The collegians were far below form and the fast Soldiers scored almost at will.

Owen, Campbell, Lill and Cook repeatedly broke away for long runs, and Littlefield and Riley with ease plowed through the Blue line. There was a great deal of spectacular open play on the part of the cadets.

Fifteen forward passes and two on-side-kicks were attempted. Twelve of the former and one of the latter were successful. At the end of the first half the score was 52 to 0 in favor of Wentworth.

GIRL POSED AS BOY

STRANGE CASE IN A PLATONIC MARRIAGE REVEALED BY AN OPERATION.

WOMAN WED AS MAN FOUR YEARS

Supposed Husband, Through Mental Aberration, Believed Himself to Be a Man—Married, But Lived Apart.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Revelations regarding a marriage contracted nearly four years ago by Dr. Alice Bush, a prominent Oakland physician, to a young woman who posed as a man and was known as Rollin K. Morgan, a medical student, make a most remarkable story from a psychic point of view.

Not only was Dr. Bush deceived for three and a half years, after a platonic marriage, but it is held that owing to peculiar aberration of the mind known to science, the supposed husband actually believed himself to be a man.

The discovery that Rollin K. Morgan was a woman was made by Dr. Bush's distinguished medical associate, Dr. Florence M. Ward, when the latter was summoned by Dr. Bush to perform an operation for appendicitis.

In 1903, young Morgan, as he was known, came to California and proved himself a distinct cousin of Dr. Bush. The latter gave the cousin a position, driving her carriage, and became fond of this new relative. She accepted the attentions of Morgan, and as she wanted to take him under her care, the platonic marriage was arranged and carried into effect.

The ceremony was performed at Oakland, January 1, 1904. After that the pretended husband continued to live in San Francisco, studying medicine and paying occasional visits to the office of the woman, who believed herself to be legally a wife.

Miss Morgan, when a little girl living with her parents in a small New Hampshire town, had a morbid desire to be a boy. She thought as a boy, and as much as possible, lived like a boy.

The girl was masculine only in mentality and temperament. So persistent was she that when she was 10 years old she donned boy's clothing and would wear no other. In this

Forty Boys Steal Engine

Youths Leap Off Locomotive When Unable to Stop It.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 16.—Forty boys at Birmingham, north of this city, stole a mogul locomotive that had been sidetracked by a construction crew Sunday night and ran the engine several miles.

They then reversed the engine and started for Birmingham, throwing the throttle wide open. The boys were unable to stop the locomotive and jumped off. All were injured, five seriously.

The engine, which attained a speed of more than a mile a minute, crashed into a freight train in the Birmingham yard and was wrecked.

FOR YOUR WEALTHY FRIEND.

Articles of Small Cost That Are Sure to Make a Hit.

The woman who wishes to make a present to a wealthy friend who has seemingly no need of anything you can afford to buy will be sure to make a hit if she makes her three or four protectors into which can be slipped delicate evening clothes.

Choose a close cheesecloth in any pretty, delicate color. A soft gray is serviceable and washes without fading. Use the width of the material, doubling it across at the top and sewing the two sides and the bottom in a seam.

Cut a small hole in the middle of the top fold and from it cut a straight slit about a yard long down the middle of the front piece. Bind around the hole and down each side of the slit with three-quarter inch white tape. The opening can be cut back and hemmed, if preferred, or can be bound with narrow wash ribbon in a contrasting color to the cheesecloth.

Fasten tapes at each side of the neck opening and about six inches apart to the bottom of the slit. If the covers are intended as gifts and if there are several women in a family it is a good idea to work three initials on the cheesecloth just below the opening. Use white mercerized cotton and pad well underneath to make the letters raised.

This marking is a convenience to tell whose frock the bag contains without opening it.

For the Traveler.

A dainty convenience for traveling is a little safety pin case made of linen and embroidered in a conventional design.

Two pieces of stiff paper or cardboard are cut the size of the oval in the design, and one piece is for the cover of the case, the other for the back.

The design may be transferred to the linen by means of carbon paper and embroidered in a plain Kensington stitch. The poppy is red and the leaves green, with binding and bows of red ribbon.

Cover each side of the cardboard with the linen and stitch on the ribbon binding. Two pieces of white flannel with pinked edges are sewed in at the top to hold the safety pins. Pins of different sizes may be put into the flannel, and a few black safety pins will be found useful.

It is an attractive little gift and would be thoroughly appreciated by women at home as well as by the traveler.

Something For the Baby.

Something for the baby is one of the most important of Christmas gifts. A sleighbell ring will delight his young fancy, for it has gay ribbon, and when he shakes it the bells tinkle merrily. A small embroidery hoop is wound tightly with ribbon, and five strands of the ribbon are stretched across the

SAFETY PIN CASE.

Materials Required: Stiff Cardboard, Green Linen, Poppy-Red Embroidery Silk, Thread, Safety Pins, Ribbon.

Small Embroidery Hoop, Ribbon, Bells.

Homemade Battle.

A hoop of the ribbon finishes where the strands are sewed on, and a bell is sewed to the other end.

A practical idea is to take a hoop from a butter tub, make notches in the wood and tie it together tightly before winding with the ribbon.

It takes only a few minutes to make the ring, and the ribbon and bells are inexpensive. Any one who has a few moments to spare might make half a dozen or so and send them to some children's home or hospital, for there is always sure to be some very wee ones there.

Table Cover Design.

An attractive design for a table cover may be carried out in stencil and embroidery. A model was developed in monk's cloth of a warm tan shade stenciled in peacock blue and orange outlined in deeper shades of the same color. Tapestry dyes for stenciling may be bought in any shop selling art materials. Where the desired shade cannot be purchased it is easily obtained by mixing the dyes.

BAD WEATHER FOR WEEK

Two Disturbances, With Rain in Southern District.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Rain, snow and disagreeable weather throughout the country generally and frost in the Gulf and South Atlantic states during the next week or ten days is the prediction of the weather bureau. Cooler weather is indicated for the eastern portion of the country during this time.

Two disturbances are approaching the west. These will be attended by rain in the southern and snow in the northern districts.

The first disturbance will advance from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic coast, starting today in the west, reaching the Atlantic states about Thursday or Friday.

The second storm will start on its cross-country run from the Pacific coast about Wednesday and is due to reach the Atlantic seaboard about Monday next.

Following these disturbances the frost line probably will be carried into the Gulf and South Atlantic states, the weather forecasters declare.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all dealers.

GIRL LAYS A "NET"

FORMER SWEETHEART OF EARL BULLOCK PLANNED TO BETRAY HIM.

THE RUSE WAS VERY CLEVER ONE

Acted With Officers to Trace Fugitive by Means of Letters to His Mother and Sister—Rings Formed the Basis.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 16.—Had Earl Bullock not returned for a second attempt at Eudora he probably would have been captured within a few weeks. By means of the decoy letters written by his former sweetheart, Annie Blankenship, to his mother, Mrs. Annette Bullock, and to a sister, Mrs. J. B. Burton, the authorities in Lawrence had almost established communication with the bandit.

Immediately after the first robbery, Samuel Bishop, mayor of Lawrence, called on Edward Rilling, an attorney, and requested him to take charge of the efforts to capture Bullock. Rilling, William H. Bannon, the sheriff; Sidney Hord, city marshal, and Edward Woods, a deputy marshal, planned a series of letters to Bullock's relatives that would aid them should the fugitive write.

Annie Blankenship agreed to aid in the plan, as she feared the return of her former lover. Several weeks before the first hold-up, she says, he had threatened her life, and his fear of him was tinged with animosity. A letter written to the girl from the sister Mrs. Burton who was playing with an East Lynn company in Nebraska, opened the way for the correspondence. This is Mrs. Burton's first letter to the girl:

"Bloomington, Neb., Oct. 19.—Miss Annie Blankenship, Lawrence, Kan.: I understand that you have two rings which my brother allowed you to wear, one a present to him from myself, the other a present to my father from my mother. Will you kindly send the same to me at once by express C. O. D.? Needless to say, I am very, very deeply grieved at all that has occurred; sorry that your name has been made so public, that through my poor brother's wrongdoing, especially as you seem to object so strenuously as to deny having cared for him at all. My poor kid brother! He loved you dearly and honestly. He told me so with his own lips, no longer than two weeks ago, and spoke of you so fondly. You are young and no doubt have been influenced by outsiders, but I am indeed sorry that you have been so embittered against him. Kindly send rings to me by express. I will pay all charges. (Signed) Mrs. J. B. Burton."

Rilling and his aide discussed the letter and a reply was dictated by Rilling and written to the sister. In this letter comes the subtle hint that would have established communication with Bullock, had he written to his sister, as the authorities believed he would.

This is the answer dictated by Rilling and written by the girl: "Dear Mrs. Burton: I will answer your letter, which I received this morning, and was indeed glad to hear from you, but was sorry you feel toward me as you do."

"Now, you know, Mrs. Burton, that if I had told the newspaper men who came to me right after this trouble that I loved Ross and was engaged to be married to him, they would surely think that he told me all about this trouble before it happened and be watching every move that I made, thinking that I knew where he was. I did not want the newspaper men nor the officers to know anything about our affairs. I did what I think best for Ross and myself."

"When you think this matter over I think you will conclude that I did the best thing under the circumstances. I would do anything I could for Ross and wish I could do something for him now. I would make any kind of sacrifice to be with him. Ross knows that I love him, and the little differences that we had a short time ago would have been patched up by this time if he had remained in Lawrence. If I knew where Ross was and I could get to him without a single person in this world knowing it, I would surely do so. You do not know how dear that boy is to me, and now that he is in trouble I would be the last person to turn my back on him."

"If Ross should write to me, I want him to address his letters as I want you, to Miss Anna Blankenship, Lawrence, Kan., general delivery. I want letters coming addressed as above because then nobody would ever find out who the letter came from, nor that it was intended for me. If it should come addressed to me you know the mail carrier would see it. I shall mail this letter tonight so that it will reach you by Saturday, according to your request. I would be indeed glad to meet you and your dear mother at any time.

"I did not get to see your mother when she was here, one reason being that I was afraid to go out on the street because the nasty police were watching every move I made. If you should come through this part of the country any time soon let me know and I would be glad to meet you."

"I do not want to give up the ring Ross gave me. He did not ask me for it, and I don't think he intended to. Do not feel offended at this. I am in hopes that you will see the dear boy before long, and I don't think that he will ever ask me for that ring. If you can get word to him tell him that I love him and will never go back on him, and oh, how glad I would be to hear from him. Tell him he must not run any chance in writing letters, and if he writes he must address his letters to the above address. I trust that you will not feel offended at me and that you will write me a letter as soon as you get this one. With love to you and all, I remain, (Signed) Annie Blankenship."

Several more letters passed between the two, but the false sweetheart had failed to learn of Earl's whereabouts up to the time of Friday's robbery.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, which contains neither alcohol (which to most women is the rankest poison) or other injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath—thus taking its users into their full confidence, and warranting physicians in prescribing it in their worst cases, which they do very largely.

It is foolish as well as dangerous to take medicine the composition of which you know nothing. Therefore, don't let a dishonest druggist prevail on you to accept a secret nostrum for this professionally approved medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. Every ingredient in its make-up has the strongest indorsement of the leading medical men of all the several schools of practice. Send postal card request for free Booklet of same.

Every woman may write fully and confidentially to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and may be sure that her case will receive careful, conscientious, confidential consideration, and that the best medical advice in the world will be given to her, absolutely free.
